The Cariboo Candidate.

The Cariboo Sentinel of the 13th, mentions that the Hon. G. A. Walkem is named as a candidate to represent that district in the Legislative Council; and that the Hon. Mr. Carrall is not likely to become a candidate at the next election. We are not surprised at either of these utterances. It was generally understood when Mr. Walkem went to Cariboo that his object was to become a candidate, and, if possible, to get elected to the Legislative Council. The course of Mr. Carrall in declaring in the Council that Responsible Government was unsuited to the country, was generally interpreted as unfavorable to his popularity, and consequently to his return for Cariboo. His position was that if the people were in favor of Responsible Government on admission into the Dominion, they would get it; but the people were not in favor of Responsible Government, but he voted against it, as well as Carrall. But that is not all. Mr. Walkem in the session of the Legislative Council, in 1867, said that people on the mainland, above New Westminster, were unfit for representative institutions. And so, he with Mr. Robson and others, voted down all change in the constitution. They preferred a despotic Council, mainly composed and wholly controlled by officials, to a Legislature, of which but one-third were to be nominated. Now, how Mr. Walkem can have the presumption to offer himself to the people of Cariboo, as a candidate to be elected by the electors of that district, we cannot comprehend. How the electors of Cariboo could place sufficient confidence in him to return him, would be something more mysterious. We have watched his whole public career, both before and after the union of this Colony, as a legislator, as a representative of Cariboo, and as a nominee of Mr. Seymour, in the Council, and we must say that the acts and sayings of Mr. Walkem have been entirely against the people and the popular interest. The chief virtue that he has ever exhibited was in showing his public spirit to get into office to serve his own ends. He proposed the resolution to raise Gov. Seymour's salary from £3,000 to £4,000 a year. The resolution was carried, and every year since, Seymour and his successors have drawn $5,000 more a year than there was any need for. The prevailing opinion entertained as to his motive in doing so was to insure his appointment to the office of Attorney General. But as a corollary to the raising of the Governor's salary, there was another resolution passed to appoint another public judge. On this resolution it was expected that Mr. Cresce would be raised to the bench and Mr. Walkem would become Attorney General. Mr. Seymour even sent his name to Downing Street as a suitable person for Attorney General. This occurred before union. Time rolled on, however, and Mr. Cresce was placed on the bench, and the claims of Mr. Walkem were passed over by the Governor and Downing Street. That almost seems to us to be a fitting punishment for one who to serve his own interests inflicted an additional imposition of $5,000 a year on the country, for the last five years, and did it as a representative of the people of Cariboo. Governors Seymour, Birch, Hankin, and Murgrave have drawn the extra $5,000 a year, till $25,000 have been virtually thrown away in an exorbitant salary. But it is in the illiberal votes of Mr. Walkem—his votes and speeches against granting representative institutions—against the fitness and right of the people to self-government, to Responsible Government, that we find most objection. Always on the side of despotism, always against granting to the people the right to manage their own affairs, he now puts himself forward as a fit person to represent those whom he has declared over and again to be unfit for self-government—unfit to govern themselves. When place and power were to be had by toadying to the officials, Mr. Walkem was always a convenient friend, a sympathizing supporter of irresponsibility, and a worthy agent even in high-handed proceedings. Take the Humphrey's prosecution. Who brought the case up in the Council? Walkem. Who acted as prosecutor? Walkem. Who managed the prosecution in the most illiberal way? Walkem. Whose tool was he? Truich's. If the people of Cariboo think that their interests are safe in the hands of Mr. Walkem, we presume that they will elect him. But if they do their duty to the country at large, they will do better to select some one else—Some one who has been always found on the popular side and on the liberal interest; and whose pledge in the hustings will prove a guarantee as to his vote in the Council.

AUSTRALIAN LEACHES.—The Melbourne Argus states that a large consignment of leeches went to England in the steamer ship Somersdale. It appears that some parts of Australia abound with leeches, and those which frequent the Murray river have a good repute for biting fever, and leaving no inflammatory wound or mark behind. They are said to rival the spotted leech of Northern Europe. Measures were taken some time ago by a Melbourne firm for the conservation of the Murray leeches, and their contracts with the fishermen in the Murray district for the past season exceeded half a million. But the international demand is almost equal to the supply. The leeches sent to England were packed in boxes of soft clay, made to resemble as much as possible the muddy bottom of the river which is their ordinary resort. It is said that the prime cost of leeches sold in Europe must exceed two millions sterling per annum.

N. SHAKESPEARE
RESPECTFULLY INFORMS HIS friends and the public that he has received the most perfect and approved method, by which he has reduced the time of exposure more than three fourths. His pictures are taken almost instantaneously, and in ALL KINDS of Weather—Sun or no Sun. Greater brilliancy and more artistic results being secured. The continued patronage of the public which has been hitherto so liberally bestowed upon him, is therefore respectfully requested. Now is the time for mothers to bring their babies along. A large selection of Indian portraits always on hand. Particular attention given to out-door work. MARK YVES ANDERSON, Next door to the Theatre.
